ORGANISATIONAL CONTEXT

Established in 1997, Geelong Regional Library Corporation (GRLC) is a cooperative venture with four municipalities: Borough of Queenscliffe, City of Greater Geelong, Golden Plains Shire and Surf Coast Shire. Total population served is just over 260,000, through an extensive network of 16 branch libraries, 2 mobile libraries, a community library service and virtual library services. The Corporation is governed by a Board comprising Councillors from each of the member Councils. The Regional Library Support Centre delivers services on a regional basis via the branch, mobile and virtual network of libraries including specialist skills & knowledge, technical services and administrative support.

Libraries are becoming less about quiet reading and contemplation and more about lifelong learning, community strengthening and social interaction. Bright and welcoming spaces, access to technology, quality print and online collections, literary events and programs all make a vibrant contribution to the creative knowledge economy.

Our population is both growing and changing. Our region is one of the fastest growing in the country and reflects the national trends in birth rates, an ageing demographic and continued migration. These trends provide us with a rich tapestry of library users: young people who are 'born digital', seniors who are increasingly active and engaged in the broader world and a culturally diverse migrant community.

The next five years will see us lead in the development of technology-enabled service delivery both within our physical library spaces and online. Increasingly technology will be seamlessly integrated into people's lives and the library's collection and programs will reach our users anywhere any time. We will also herald a new era in the Geelong region with the opening of the Geelong Library and Heritage Centre. Located in the Cultural Precinct this iconic landmark will contribute significantly to place-making and urban socio-cultural regeneration. It will be the central library for our extensive regional network of libraries, a community and cultural space for local residents, a centre for discovery of information about Geelong and a major destination for visitors from both within and outside the region.
